Learning to Fly

Class of '88

Basic flight instruction

began in kindergarten as we learned to understand our manuals of letters and words and our tools of pencils and colors. We were off into a whole new world with our teachers serving as the flight instructors.

Throughout our flight in the grades, junior high, and senior high, there were some rocky and rough trips, but now as seniors we're coming in for a safe landing. However, this is not the end of our adventures for soon we will be taking off for destinations yet unknown. Once again we will soar towards our dreams with confidence only this time we will be charting our own flight patterns.

Robb Jensen demonstrates his football throwing expertise.

Besides "studying to be sophomores" as Joe DiLeo put it, just exactly what do freshmen do? Well, most greenie-weenies do exactly the same things as the upperclassmen - they play sports, play in band, act in the play, and goof around. However, with the exception of goofing around, freshmen are relatively new at most of these activities. With time and energy to spare, freshmen are just one step closer to earning their wings in '88.

Juniors Prepare for a Landing

Way to bum, Kev!

Juniors rapidly moved into the year by organizing their annual fund raising for prom. Lasting two weeks, this magazine sale was a success. After the big magazine sale, the Juniors fully concentrated on their required courses. During almost any day, you can find them in American History, English III, and various other classes of interest. With their hectic schedule, trouble was far away, sometimes! Another thing on the Junior's mind was their future plans. They worked throughout the year keeping up their grades. In the last semester many prepared for ACT's while others prepared for summer jobs. The Junior year overall, prepared them for their landing next year as Seniors.

Prom Almost Paradise

A tropical setting complete with leis, a grass hut, and palm trees under a mass of red, orange, and yellow streamers was "Almost Paradise" for PHS juniors and seniors and their dates.

The class of '89 arranged for their version of a luau banquet at the steak house at which prom go'ers were served an elegant meal. Tonya Peterson gave the welcome, followed by Mike Poss with the thank you. Rita Husman read the class history, and then it was on to the dance!

At 9:00, the grand march took place. This annual prom event offers a chance to introduce PHS students and their dates to their awaiting public. "Celebrations Sound System" provided the music, and everyone danced the night away.

After the dance, most prom go'ers went bowling and out to breakfast. It wasn't unusual to see people cruising main at 5:30 a.m., 'cause that's when many people got back! All in all, the night was "Almost Paradise."

On Sunday, May 29, twenty-three seniors gathered to experience the end of their high school careers - graduation. An elaborate stage was set for the occasion, decorated with purple and silver, and the motto "Every exit is an entrance somewhere else." Mike Poss, Jason Chester, and Michele Crist presented their speeches, "Retrospect of School-time Memories", "We Have Come This Far", and "Bridges Yet To Cross" respectively. After the presentation of the class, and the presentation of diplomas, the Class of '88 threw their hats in a celebration of the day.

Eighth graders found themselves juggling a busy schedule with academics and extra-curricular activities. A few of these activities included football, basketball, wrestling, cheerleading, and track.

In the fall, the class of '92 arranged a dance for the seventh grade. "The Graveyard Bash" was the theme for this freakish bop, which was appropriately put on during the Halloween season.

As the students were taught Earth Science by Mr. Sattler, Jerry Zebell managed to find time to take a "short" twenty minute nap. So, Jerry, what exactly was Earth Science?

Even though our educators at PHS torture us with hackneyed lectures, excessive homework assignments, and arduous examinations, most students would have to agree that our teachers soar above the rest. Instructing us on everything from accounting to welding, our teachers are preparing us for a successful future. To find out why they stay in this profession, we asked them the following question: What do you like most about teaching?

Homecoming

Sky High in '88

Homecoming week opened with the usual spirit and excitement associated with this festive occasion.

Monday began the week with traditional "blue and white" day. On this day, the entire student body's apparel consisted of Parker's school colors. Monday was full of suspense and spirit as Carol Merritt and Jeff Hertel were crowned queen and king and the burning of the "A" was held.

Tuesday emphasized the "punk rock" look as students made their way through PHS with spiked and wildly colored hair. The girls' basketball concluded the day.

On Wednesday, PHS took a trip back to bobbie socks and saddle shoes. Poodle skirts and white t-shirts graced the halls, as students participated in 50's day.

Thursday, "hobo" day, and Friday, "Hawaiian" day, marked the end of the week. Friday afternoon, was the time set for the annual field day in which one class was pitted against another.

On Friday night the football team suffered a disappointing loss, however, spirits were high as the week ended with the dance. Parker's spirit was definitely flying high.

A Game for April

Mr. Deutsch introduces Jill and Doyle Christensen and April.

A quick game of football amuses the audience.

On the night of Friday, January 9th, an estimated crowd of 800-900 people gathered at the PHS gym to witness a once in a lifetime event: the faculty playing basketball against the Kelo-Land All Stars. This game, an event organized by Roger Deutsch, raised $6000.00 ($2000.00 came from the Aid Association for Lutherans) for April Christensen.

April, daughter of Jill and Doyle Christensen, has cystic fibrosis. In order to raise money for her cause, all faculty members, school personnel, and administrators were involved as either players, cheerleaders, concession workers, or timers and scorekeepers.

The game between the Pistols (Parker's faculty) and the Kelo-Land All Stars ended with the faculty winning 105-100. Mr. Mark and the high school band played between the Junior High boys' basketball preliminary game and the All Stars game, and also at half time. A good time was had by all!

Sweetheart candidates were Susan Andal and Michele Crist, while the Marshall candidates were Kurt Mielke and Jeff Trainer. The excitement rose as Michele and Jeff were crowned Sweetheart and Marshall.

Play

HERE COME THE BRIDES was a three-act comedy that centered around Jimmy's need for a wife.

Jimmy lived with his best friend, Bill, and Bill's Aunt Ellen. Jimmy's Uncle Dan was under the assumption that Jimmy was married so he sent a large check. Instead of mailing the check this month, Uncle Dan decided to deliver the check in person along with Peggy, his ward. Jimmy ran around asking everyone to be his bride. When Madge and Mr. Oswald refused to perform the task, Jimmy turned to his last resource Bill, alias Wilhelmina. Many strange occurrences happen as Mr. Oswald shows up dressed up as a woman and tackles Uncle Dan.

Wilhelmina tries on Peggy's new hat; he accidentally pulls his wig off along with the hat and then he is exposed to Peggy. Jimmy, Madge, Bill, and Peggy then conspire to fool Dan into thinking that Bill has left Jimmy. Since there is no bride, Dan has no choice but to give the check to Jimmy.

Pheasants Strive for Victory

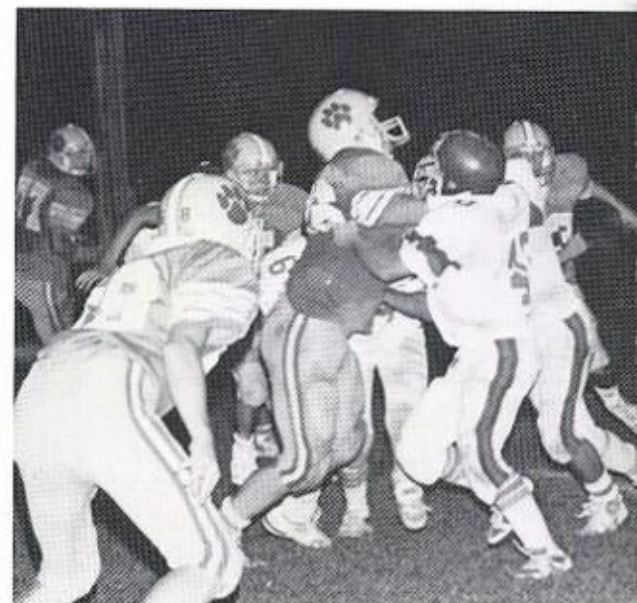

The 1987 Football team began their season with eager anticipation that one continued to generate enthusiasm and interest throughout the season. The Pheasants provided many highlights, including the defeat of Gayville-Volin, and an overtime victory over Irene, one week after the Cardinals upset the second ranked team in the state! Parker also played an exciting Homecoming Game against Alcester.

On offense, running back David Petersen rushed for 1,211 yards on 192 carries and caught 22 passes for 45 yards, to yield 98 total points. Quarterback, Mike Poss threw 114 passes with 45 completions totaling 786 yards, including 9 touchdown passes. Receiver Scott Keeley also had 158 receptions. Defensively, the leading tacklers were Mike Poss and David Petersen. They each earned "Ace of the Week" honors from the Argus Leader. Dave was also included on their "Elite 45" list.

Many records were broken as another sign of success. Petersen set marks for the most carries in a game (36), and season (192), most yards rushing in a season (1211), and the most points in a season (98). Poss set the record with 11 passes completed in a game, and also teamed up with Petersen for the longest pass and catch from the scrimmage (87 yards), in Parker's history.

Crash course!

Football players earning recognition were Scott Keeley - Honorable Mention, Mike Poss - All-Conference, Dave Petersen - All Conference.

Nice catch!

Hey! Did you see that?

In the closing days of August, the girls' basketball team donned their practice uniforms and high tops for yet another season.

On September 3, both the junior varsity and varsity were victorious in the opening game of the season against Salem. Throughout the year, the girls had many close battles with the area's toughest teams. The Lady Pheasants proved how competitive they were when they defeated Marion in the District

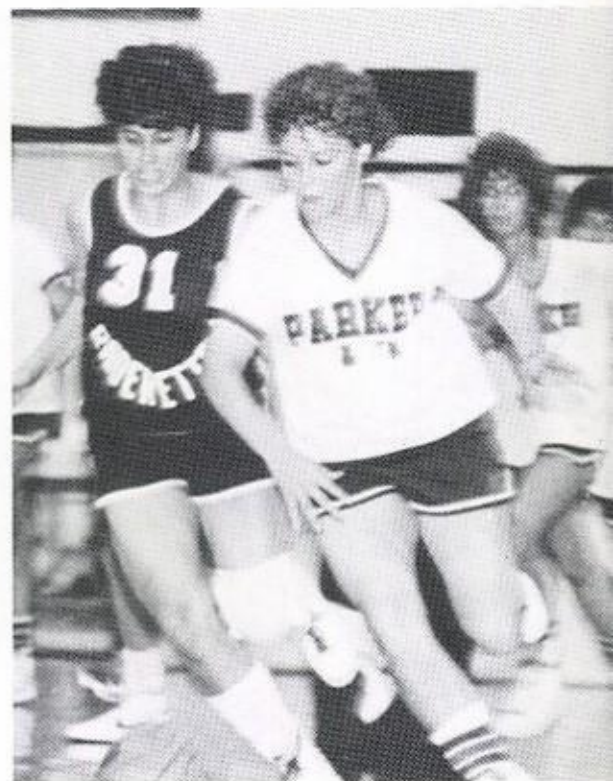

"challenge" game to earn the privilege to compete in the Region Tournament. At the end of the season when the totals were in, the team's record was 9 wins and 14 losses. Jerrice Nelson was the leading scorer with 214 points averaging to be 9.7 points per game. Coming in a close second was Stacy Leininger with 212 points which is 9.2 points per game. The leading rebounders were Paula Viet with 196 and Jerrice Nelson with 192. Averaging 4 assists per game with a total of 87 was Michele Crist.

When the last high top was taken off and the uniforms were all packed away, the team, Coach Christensen, and Assistant Coach Bjorneberg, could look back at the season with pride. With the help of the fans directed by the cheerleaders, the girls and coaches worked hard to prove to everyone that they had what it took to be seriously competitive and soar into success in the years to come.

The bench looks on anxiously at Regions.

WRESTLING

The wrestlers were soaring as they proceeded to take on the opponents that fate had set for them. The team came back strong with eight wrestlers returning for head coach Gary Kropuenske. PHS wrestlers had an outstanding season racking up an eight and four record, including the 100th victory for Coach Kropuenske.

The wrestlers were hot when it came to the end of the season, especially at Districts, when wrestling well means winning. At the District Tournament, five of the nine wrestlers made it to regions. From the Regional Tournament, four of five advanced to the State Tournament. Unfortunately, three of the four wrestlers were beat out in the first day. Only one remained. Terry Fluit went on to the second day and proudly took eighth place.

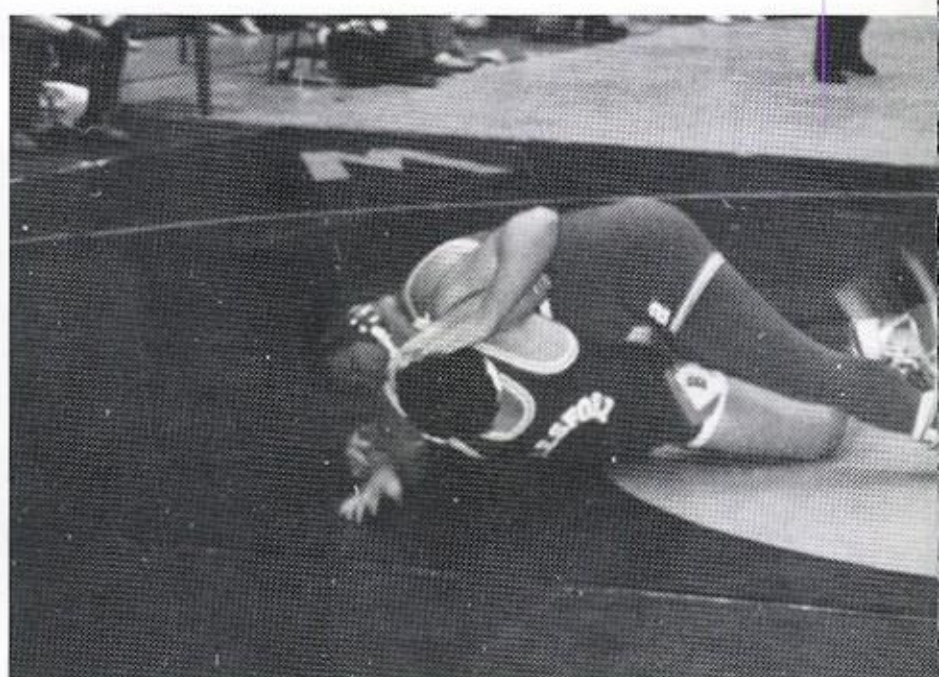

Some results of the past season are as follows: most pins, Terry Fluit with 24; most wins, Terry Fluit with 30; and most takedowns, Robb Jensen with 36.

Looking back at the season, the wrestlers appeared to be flying high.

Although the Parker Pheasant's boys basketball team didn't progress as far as their dreams would have allowed, they had a learning season and expect to use their knowledge to excel next year.

Mark Christensen led in points with 360, averaging 19 points a game. Brett Meadors led rebounding with 128 for a 6.7 average. The Pheasants, as a team, shot 40% from the field, led by Meadors shooting 45% and Jason Luke shooting 44%.

The Pheasants lost four seniors: Jeremy Schmidt, Dave Richter, Brett Levene, and Jeff Hertel.

They were coached by Gayle Hoover and assisted by Dave Fuller.

The Parker Pheasants united with the Marion Bears to create a high flying season. Co-operation was the key to the successful record of 18-7-1. Hard work, hustle, and determination were "bumped" among the girls to devise an exciting, memorable year.

Even though volleyball is a team sport, individual performance is always geared towards the winning of a match. Jerrice Nelson led the team with 149 serving points, over 400 spikes of which 72 were kills, and well over 400 sets of which 66 were ace sets. In order to set up a bump, set, spike, an awesome serve receiver was needed. Annette Larson snatched up the job with 100 serve receives and 271 digs. Monica Nelson led the squad with 88 blocks and 37 of those were aces.

The fearless team needed unending assistance before, during, and after the matches. The packing of uniforms, the taking of stats, and the washing of the unbearable uniforms were the unlimited jobs performed by the statisticians: Wendy Mielke, Lynelle Roeder, and Joe Wolff. The volleyball team was coached by Ron Nelson and Jill Christensen. Coach Christensen commented about the good season - "The Parker-Marion coop in volleyball was a good thing for both schools. The girls made lasting friendships and a special bond developed that led to even better team work on the court. The girls worked hard on improving their skills. The hustle and aggressiveness they played with during the season resulted in a fine record and an enjoyable year for everyone involved."

Monica Nelson starts off the bump, set, spike strategy, as Amy Pietz and Kendra Tieszen (Marion) await to receive it.

In 1987 Parker tried something different, they co-oped cross country track with Marion. Parker wasn't the only one to benefit from it; Marion benefited from it more, for with Parker's help they strengthened the team enough to qualify for the state cross country meet in Huron on October 31.

When at state, the team finished a strong 8th place. Troy Schmit and Mark Brown from Parker, Jason Kippes, Brian Fitzgerald, Tim Tinter, and Chris Hruby were the Marion runners.

During the year, Jason Kippes, Troy Schmit, Brian Fitzgerald, and Mark Brown made up the tough varsity team. In fact, they were so tough, the team collected four first place trophies, five second places, and two third places, with Troy Schmit placing eleven times.

PHS students had a new option this year: golf. A co-op program with Marion was started to give Parker golfers a chance to show their skills on the golf course. The team exhibited great potential finishing first in the Region IIIB Meet. The Pheasants sent one golfer, Jerrice Nelson, to state this year. Eight students from Parker participated: Joe Wolff, Mike Poss, Rob Rezek, Tim Haugrud, Mike Erickson, Adam Foote, Darrin Smith, and Jerrice Nelson.

On a cold March 7th of 1988, the PHS track team began their grueling season. From the very beginning, the athletes were taught that hard work was essential if they wanted to "fly" by their competitors. Because these kids put in 100%, they reaped many medals and honors in the conference, region, and state. For instance, the boys' 400m relay team, which consisted of Derek Muller, Jeremy Meyer, Mark Christensen, and David Petersen, broke the school record. This same relay team placed second in the state track meet. The boys' medley relay team broke the conference record. This year, was the first year for a new event for the girls — the triple jump. The school record for this event now stands at 31 feet 11 inches.

Of the 17 boys coached by Mr. Roger Deutsch and the 12 girls coached by Mr. Phil Bjorneberg, nine advanced to the state track meet which was held on May 27-28 in Sioux Falls. Both the girls and boys team were very young and all were ready to fly into the next season.

CHEERLEADER S

Hard work can describe the cheerleading season. The cheerleaders were busy with their cheers, routines, stunts, and making posters. They also used their talents for pep rallies.

At the beginning of the year the girls basketball and football cheerleaders and their advisor Mrs. Bossman, went to a cheerleading clinic at O'Gorman. They learned a couple of new cheers and chants, and a new routine. The cheerleaders were invited to Nite City for pizza and a style show for dinner.

The cheerleaders enjoyed their season and hope that their contribution helped with the success of the teams.

Sparks were flying as the Parker Pacesetters flew through the fall and winter season with five performances. For homecoming, the fourteen girls rocked to "Girls, Girls, Girls," by Motley Crue. They also did an altered version for a girls' basketball game. At a boys' basketball game, the team strutted their stuff to Billy Idol's "Mony Mony."

The Christmas routine, complete with pajamas and teddy bears, was done to "I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus," with the help of Tonya Petersen and Joe Wolff as Mommy and Santa.

Of course, the girls didn't put out such great performances without hard work and 7:30 a.m. practices, which were not a fun part of drill team. However, their advisor, Ms. Froiland, and their captain, Jann Carlson, made the work bearable.

Kathy Ihnen and Dawn Jennings agreed that "The highlight of the year was going to Sioux Falls to buy shoes." During this excursion, nine of the fourteen members crowded into Holly Hertel's car and cruised to Sioux Falls. Between shoe stores, they raided Chi Chi's, Baskin Robbin's, and Burger King. This has been a fun and successful year.

Moving to the Beat

Throughout the year, the band and chorus members moved to the beat by taking part in many school and community events.

In the fall, the dedicated band members could be found practicing their marching techniques on the city streets and using these techniques in the Turtle Day Parade and the Augustana Homecoming Parade. Also, at athletic events, the pep band was present to provide the audience with half-time entertainment.

The chorus joined with the band and started preparing for their many performances. Both groups performed at assembly programs, music contests at Vermillion and Freeman, the Music Boosters Dinner, and graduation.

All of the things that the band and chorus did would not have been possible without the leadership of their directors, Miss Diane Gough and Mr. Terry Mark.

The FFA underwent a major change with Joel Ollerich as the new advisor. Mr. Ollerich has a total of 10 members to work with in FFA.

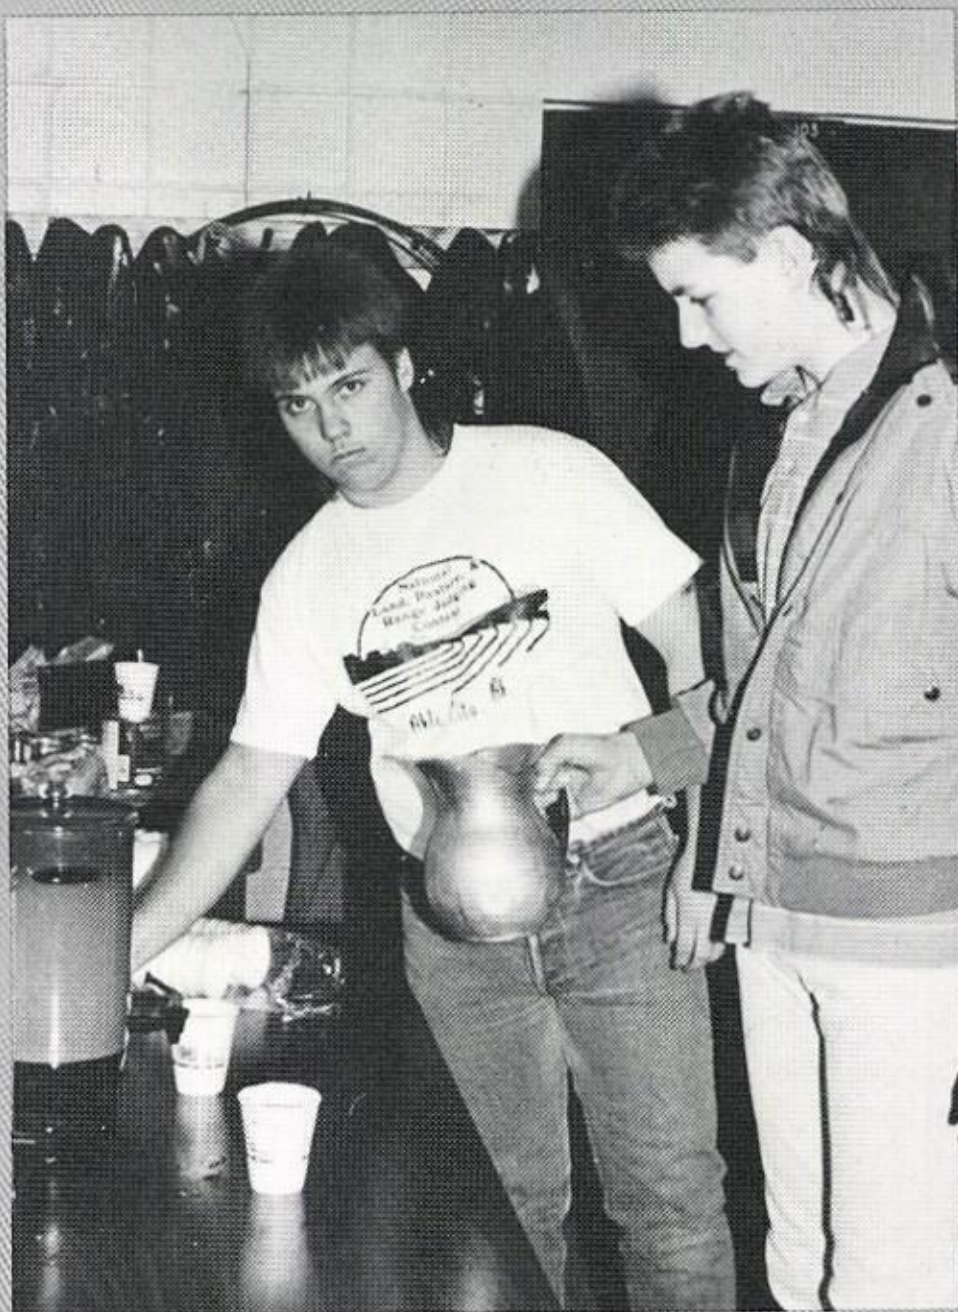

During the summer, the FFA hosted a softball tournament with four teams participating. Parker took second place. FFA week crept up on Mr. Ollerich and his followers. For FFA week, they went bowling in Sioux Falls on Sunday, had official dress on Tuesday, a pancake breakfast on Wednesday, they had a poster contest for the grade school, and had a "guess the number of corn kernels and the weight of the tractor" contest for the high school.

In March, the FFA had their annual Sweetheart Dance and the members were also participants in the Little I judging contest in Brookings. This helped them prepare for the State Convention in April, which is also in Brookings. They ended the year with their annual banquet in May.

FHA

The FHA year started off with a smooth take off. To celebrate the beginning of a new year the members treated themselves to pizza at the end of their first meeting.

FHA's first major project was helping at Turtle Days. This is their fourth year helping serve the meal.

Among some of their other activities, there was Secret Angel week during Christmas and celebrating FHA Week. During FHA Week, they had their annual FHA Soup Supper and for something different, they also had a carnival along with it. It was a big success.

Also seventeen girls presented AAE's at the District Contest and eight advanced to State.

Overall, the FHA had a full year and did a super job.

Student Council

The Student Council put on dances for the students, of which the homecoming dance was one. They also put on a field day that consisted of many different activities for homecoming week.

Student Council again put on the Christmas movie for the students. The movie was the "Apple Dumpling Gang Rides Again." Santa came and passed out gag gifts to many students and some teachers.

They earned their money through the pop machines at the school. It was a good fund raiser and provided the Student Council with funds to do these many activities throughout the year.

As we, the members of the Annual Staff, began our flight towards the goal of organizing this year's annual, we encountered many obstacles in the path. An annual takes many hours of dedicated work of not only the students, but also of our adviser, Mrs. Flyger. Our task began with the organizing of the book itself, from there, we moved on by writing the copy and drawing up the rough draft on format sheets. After this had been completed, the final copies of the copy and the rough draft must be completed. From here, the pages were sent into the publishing company where they are printed. The entire process takes about four to five hours for each section. It was only through the dedication of the members of the staff, that the yearbook was made possible, and this is why we salute them for their contribution to PHS.

Paper Staff

Members of Paper Staff flew through another year of writing for the school newspaper The Pheasant, part of The New Era. Their newspaper articles included everything from the school play to an elementary student teacher. To end the school year, the reporters wrote the senior interviews.

The goal of The Pheasant staff was to keep the readers informed of the happenings at PHS.

Pep Club

Pep Club started off the year with the homecoming skit, "Snow Blue", a takeoff from "Snow White". Next, pep club members sold "Go Big Blue" buttons at one dollar apiece. For girls' districts, pep club followed the latest trend by designing hoop hankies. Midway through the year, the longest poster in the school's history adorned the walls of PHS (courtesy of the Pep Club, of course). A contest was held to determine the best contribution to this poster, and Jann Carlson won and received the grand prize of six brownies.

In February, Terry Fluit was honored with the title of "Mister Hot Legs." In March, the basketball players had a similar contest in which Jason Luke, Andy Anderson, and Darrin Smith won the titles of "Mr. Hairy", "Mr. Strong Man", and "Mr. Wimpy", respectively.

For each sport, pep club provided cake and refreshments for parent's night along with flowers for all the cheerleaders, coaches, and statisticians once during the season.

Oral Interp.

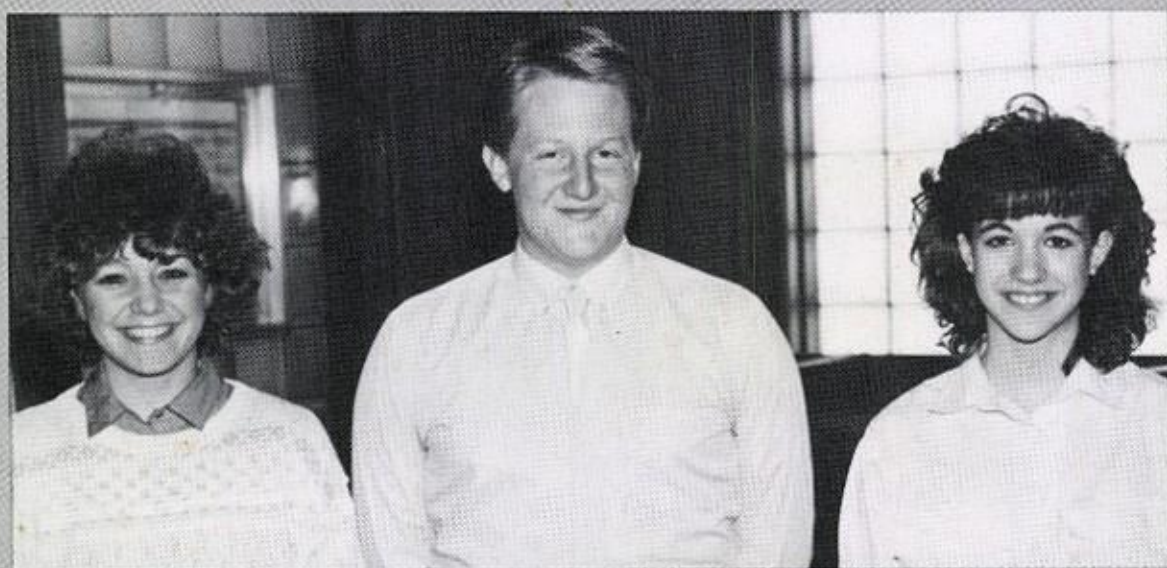

Oral Interpretation began the year at the local level where students competed in the categories of: Humorous Prose, Dramatic Prose, Interpretation of Drama, Poetry, and Duet Acting. The winners of the local contest advanced to the district contest held at Augustana College. There were three winners at this level. They were: Lisa Ertz - Dramatic Prose, Tim Miller - Poetry, and Tim Miller and Stacy Leininger - Duet Acting. These contestants received superior ratings at the regional level. Oral Interp. was definitely flying high in '87.

On April 18, the members of the National Honor Society gathered at the Parker Steakhouse for the annual induction ceremony/banquet. Those honored by receiving a membership in the NHS were Mary Rezek, Jerrice Nelson, Carol Merritt, Stacy Leininger, Mike Poss, Terry Fluit, Janelle Thietje, Annette Larson, Wendy Mielke, and Scott Keeley.

Before these individuals were granted entry into the NHS, they underwent intense screening by a faculty committee whose responsibility it was to determine who was worthy of such an honor. Each applicant had to fill out an application which contained their qualifications for the National Honor Society. In order to be admitted to this distinguished organization, one must possess a high academic standing, leadership, and a good moral character.

Receiving second year honors for NHS were Michele Crist, Jeremy Schmidt, Jason Chester, and Jeff Trainer. Thanks to the NHS adviser, Mrs. Clarke Hoover, the banquet was a success and we are looking forward to next year.

Spanish Trip

The Spanish I class ventured to the International Day provided by SDSU in Brookings. This event started with the class arriving at school and leaving around 8 a.m. Due to the weather and hunger, they arrived at SDSU at 10 a.m. Upon arrival, the students parted, investigating several of the many foreign display booths.

There were several different countries represented that day. Just a few were Kuwait, India, China, Japan, Mexico, Palestine, and France. Their booths consisted of food, pamphlets, newspapers from their home country, and small gifts for them to purchase. During the day, the students could have been seen eating Indian tacos, sipping on a tropical drink from Mexico, buying a sombrero and participating in the traditional New Zealand folk dance.

They, along with their faithful adviser, Mrs. Bossman, went to Pizza Hut to enjoy an Italian lunch of pizza and garlic bread. They then returned to the Volstorff Ballroom at the Student Union to finish looking around. They departed around 2 p.m. It was an educational experience all nine of them will treasure forever.

▲Janelle Thietje, Jann Carlson, and Mariah Schoffelman pose with their friends from India, Palestine, and a mime from the university.

▼Scott Keeley and "Ozzie" model the men's traditional dress from "Ozzie's" home country, Kuwait.
